

AT ALL LIBRARIES.

Published by WM. HEINEMANN.

New Novel by MAXWELL GRAY—"THE LAST SENTENCE"—Author of "Silence of Dean Maisland." New Novel by SARAH GRAND -"THE HEAVENLY TWINS"—Author of "Ideala." 3 Vols. [3 Vols. New Novel by JESSIE FOTHERGILL—"ORIOLE'S DAUGHTER"—Author of "The First Violin." 3 Vols. New Nevel by MRS. HUNGERFORD - "THE O'CONNORS OF BALLINAHINCH"-Author of "Molly Bawn." 1 Vol. 61.

ABSOLUTELY PURE THEREFORE BEST. NO CHEMICALS USED.

Now Ready, complete in One Volume, cloth, 30s, net; or in half-morocca, Mis. net.

THE UNIVERSAL ATLAS.

A New and Complete General Atlas of the World, with 117 Pages of Maps, handsomely produced in Colours, and a Complete Index to about 125,000 Mames.

"Unrivalled for combined excellence and cheapness," - Daily News.

CASSELL & COMPANY, LIMITED, Ludgate Hill, London.

NEW VOLUME BY "A SON OF THE MARSHES."

FOREST TITHES; and Other Scudies from Rature. By the Author of Woodland, Moor, and Stream, Ac. Edited by J. A. Chuck.

London : Surru, Espen, & Co., 15, Waterloo Place A VOLUME OF STORIES OF HUMBLE LIPE.

PAIR OF LOVERS; and Other Tales. "The short and simple of the Poor." By Ins. Lamon.

London : Surve, Espen, & Co., 15, Waterloo Place

BETWEEN ONE AND TWO MILLION

MRS. HENRY WOOD'S NOVELS have been sold since publication.

A sain excelled only (if excelled by that of the novels of flar Walter boott and Charles Dickens.

ch novel of this favourite author can be had arately, well printed on good paper and neatly bound. Price in ed.

Root Lynne Two Hundred and Pittieth Thousand, The Channings.

Mrs. Halliburton's tree-ble.

Mrs. Halliburton's DaughDyat.
Lord Oakburn's DaughVarmer's Pride,
Boland Yorke.
Johany Laddew. (First Horres).

Midred Arholl.

M. Martin's Eve.

Rocacyge Canterbury's Will.

The Red Court Farm.

Wikinis the Mase.

Elader's Polly,

William the Mase.

Elader's Polly,

Pomeroy Abbey,

Johany Laddow. (Fourth

Rection). o Two Hundred and Fift

Red Court Farm.
thin the Mage, ter's Folly, ty Adelaide. Elster's Folly, Lady Adelaide, Dawnid Cray, Johnny Ladlow, (Second Survey

RICHARD RESTLEY & Son, New Burlington St., blishers in Ordinary to Her Majesty the Que

Adam Grainger, Johnny Ludlew, (Fifth

DREAM MEMORIES

MR. IVER M'KAY'S S,000 Copi

DREAM MEMORIES. By the Camposer of "Love e Golden Dream."

Madame MARIE ROZE 8

Great success. Fost free, 2s. not.

DREAM MEMORIES.

5.000 COPIES WERKLY.
By the Composer of "Lave's Golden Dream,
Everyone can play it. Everyone sings it.
All like it. Post free, 2s. act.

DREAM MEMORIES.

by the Componer of "Love's Golden Dream Published in four keys. In E flat (compass H to D), F (C to E), G (D to F), A flat (E to G). Post free, in.

DREAM MEMORIES WALTZ.

by THEO. BONHEUR, the Composer of The World Renowned Waltz, "Love's Golden Dream."

DREAM MEMORIES WALTZ.

hy THEO. HONHEUR.
A delictous and drenmy waits.
Spicudid to dance to. Quite irresistible.
Foot free, is. set.
Lannon Mrsse Fransissa Cowners (Limited),
7, Great Mariborough Street,
Landon, W.

EAFNESS & HEAD NOISES OVERCOME and perfect hearing restored.

Has 35 Years' World-Wide Reputation.

MAPPIN & WEBB'S

PRINCE'S PLATE.

SHIGHRET ATTAINABLE

QUALITY."

"UNEQUALLED FOR HARD WEAR."

NEW SPRING PATTERNS.

HY. PEASE & CO.'S SUCCRS.,

Spinners and Manufacturers,

The Mills, DARLINGTON,

Are now delivering the NEW SEASON'S nich include entirely New Weavings of their World-renowned Gold Medal Merinos, Cashmeres, and Cross - warp-Berges, and the latest productions in Tweeds, Homespuns, Diagonals, Whipcords, and

E

ח DORÉ, High-Class Tailor,

25, CONDUIT ST., and 31, ST. JAMES'S ST., LONDON.

Habit-cloths, &c., &c. Any article not approved exchanged within seven days. Carriage Paid on all orders to any railway station in Great Britain, and to Dublia, Belfact, Limerick, Cork, and Waterford.

0

Gold Medals, Paris, 1878: 1889

Of Highest Quality, and Having Greatest Durability, are Therefore CHEAPEST.

SIBLE PLATING

GOLDSMITHS' ALLIANCE, LIMITED (late A. B. Savony & Sens), of 11 & 12, CORNHILL, E.C., is transferred to the Manufacturing

COMPANY,

here all communications are to be address
New ILLEGRATED CATALOGUE POST FARE.

THE INTERNATIONAL SLEEPING - CAR COMPANY. TRAINS DE LUXE.

DRESS FABRICS.

JOHN BRINSMEAD & SONS'
PATENT BOSTENENTE FIANCE.
ITON CONSOLIDATE PROME, PICATE CONSOLIDATE PROME, PICATE CONSOLIDATE PROME PR

Important Notice to the

Grocers, and all RETAILERS OF PATENT MEDICINES—

TEINLERS OF PAIRNI MEDICINES—
OWBRIDGE'S LUNG TONIC does not contain any Scheduled Feison, therefore all persons holding Patent Medicine Licences can sell it, and no one has a right to attach.
"Poison" labels to the bottles.
The haws superiority of Owbridge's Lang Tosle as a sar and effective remety for Cougha, Colds, or any affection of the Lungs, makes it important the Public should know that no difficulty exists in obtaining it.

SPECIAL NOTICE!

GOLDSMITHS & SILVERSMITHS

112, REGENT STREET, W.,

Season 1892-3.

Season 1892-3.

MEDITERRANEAN EXPRESS. Every Tuesday and Tunivally, i. v., London to Birliera.

PENINSULAR EXPRESS. Every Priday, i. v., Landon to Birlidis. To Cairo under five day, via P. & O. Steamers. Through Cars from Calais. SUD EXPRESS. Mosare, Wassmara, and Sirvanare, to Pau, Biarrits, Madrid, and Livanare, to Pau, Biarrits, Madrid, and Livanare, to Pau, Biarrits, Madrid, and Child Carlotte, and Carlotte, and Carlotte, and Carlotte, and Carlotte, and Carlotte, and Tunivalent Carlotte, and Carlotte, and Carlotte, and Carlotte, and Carlotte, and Carlotte, and Carlotte, so Carlotte, and Carlot

Public,

Sold everywhere at 1s. 1id., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s., by all Chemists and Putent Medicine Vendors.

EQI USED IN THE ROYAL MURSERIES. Time, 1s., 5s., and 10s., everywhere.

S

A LAXATIVE, REFRESHING FRUIT LOZENCE, VERY ACREEABLE TO TAKE,

CONSTIPATION,

Hæmorrhoids, Bile, Loss of Appetite, Gastric and Intestinal Troubles, Headache.

GRILLON, 69, Queen Street, City, London. SOLD BY ALL CHEMISTS AND DRUGGISTS, 24. 64. A BOX.

OXFORD.-MITRE HOTEL

ONE OF THE MOST ECONOMICAL FIRST-CLASS HOTELS IN THE KINGDOM

HOTEL METROPOLE LONDON.

The HOTEL METROPOLE, attusted in Northumberland Avenue, Trafalgar Square, is arranged and furnished to afford Resident every convenience and comfort. In addition to a large number of Single and Double Bed-Rooms, and Bed-Rooms with Bath-Room and Lavatory attached, there are elegant Suise of Private Apartments. The position is Central, the arrangements are complete, the Public Rooms magnificent, and the Charge Moderate. The general organisation enables the Proprietors to provide the highest-class Banqueta, Dinners, and Wedding Breakfasts, for which Some of the most luxurious Suites of Rooms in Europe are available.

Proprietors, The Gomon HOTELS, LTD.

Proprietors, THE GORDON HOTELS, Let.

CASH'S CAMBRIC FRILLINGS

NEW ILLUSTRATED

J. & J. CASH, Coventry. All Specialities can be obtained from any Draper.

ware of the party offering im

MACNIVEN & CAMERON'S PENS

They come as a boon and a blessing to men, The Picawicz, the Owr, and the Waveaux Pan

THE FLYING J PEN.

They create both wonder and delight." 5. and 1s. per Bex, at all Stationers Sample Box of all kinds, 1s. 1d. by Post. Waverley Works, EDINBURGH.

RANSOMES' atronised by the seen and the Prize Wales. First Prize competition at the AWN MOWERS THE BEST in the WORLD.

NEW AUTOMATON," "CHAIR AUTOMATON, ANGA-PRAN," "WORLD," 33 M" "POUT AND ORSE-FOWER" MOWERS, in all sizes to suicry requirement. All Machines sent on a omth's Proc Trial, and Carriage Paid. Supplied by all Ironmongers.

RAMSOMES, SINS & JEFFERIES, LA., Spewick

Coreign Medicines Coilet articles 40 Roberts + C2

Mills. 5 1 de la Paix Garis

Lat their Sonoonhouse

76 New Bond St. N.

Trench & Foreign

Medicines &

have most unequivocally succeeded. The heroine, The Earth Girl, who, at the last, is sent back whence she came, and so ends by being the "Earth To-Earth" Girl, is named Terra Incognita, she is never Terra Firma, but her existence, in its consequences to all who come within her influence, is quite a have most unequicome within her influence, is quite a reign of Terra. The authors are to be congratulated on not having yielded to a great temptation by great temptation by styling their story. The Earth Girl: or, Terra-ra-ra-Boom! The scene is laid chiefly in the Island of Breke—but to give too many details would spoil the intending-reader's pleasure. So, as Hamlet observes, "Breke, Breke my heart, for

IGS.

ined

ENS r Pas

GH.

OUR BOOKING-OFFICE.

Two gentlemen of artistic and literary attainments, having studied the romances of Victor Hueo for the sake of being inspired by that Grand Old Master's style, determined to essay a "thriller" of most tragic type. These two single authors, Messrs. Wyart and Rose, being rolled into one, wanted, like the Pickwickian Fat Boy, "to make our flesh creep." In their one-volume Hugoesque romance, The Earth (Girl, bound in pale grass - green, with blood-red title, they Coincy Hatch. The old Peer is as eccentric as he is handsome, and he takes up his residence on the Island of Breke, where "the fruit, the vegetables, the where "the fruit, the vegetables, the strange sea - creatures" (odd fish?), "which made their appearance on his table," (this sounds as if the strange sea-creatures walked in unasked. Queer place this Breke for a Breke-fast party!) "pleased him." He was easily pleased. Then "he began to think the island cider preferable to Pommery. In short, the eccentric Peer fell in love with Breke." Well! he must have been an eccentric Peer to prefer Channel Island cider, even from the best orohards, to the "84, '80, and '74—the last still existing in some exception—ally favoured snots."

the last still existing in some exceptionserves, "Breke, Breke my heart, for I must hold my tongue!" The Earth Girl first sees the light, such as it is, in a cavera, and is brought up on raw eggs fresh from the sea-bird's nest, uncooked herbs, and raw fish. No tea, coffee, milk, or liquors of any description, were within reach of this unhappy family of three, consisting of Pa, Ma, and the Infant Phenomenon. How they slaked their thirst is not clearly stated, unless a sort of squarium, in which some amiable sharks reposed, was a fresh-water tank. This wild girl was elegantly brought up, as far as their somewhat straitened circumstances would permit, for she learnt songs and ballads,

A NEW "ARNOLD'S EXERCISE."

MY DEAR MR. DACRE,

I HAVE seen your Play, and, since then,
I have not seen any other like it. "When will I come sgain?" To see it twice within a week would be too costatic a joy for a dweller—may I say a Liver—in London, who is more at home as one of the Lights of Asia. So, for the present—to paraphrase what I believe were the words of a popular poet whose name has passed from my memory—such, alas! is popularity—I will say to you, "Not to-day.
DACRE"—(I fancy the last word was "Baker"
in the original Syriao)—but, some other day, when, as one of the Lights aforementioned, I shall, at a Matinée be day-lighted to rewitness your admirable performance.
a Yours ever most sincerely sincere,
EDSWIN TAILS—LOSE, C.B.
P.S.—"C.B." is not "Commander of the P.S.—"C.B." is not "Commander of the Bath," but stands for "Cox and Box," in which piece (have you ever played it? I forget—but how perfect you would be as Sergeant or Corporal Bosneer!) you will find the immortal quotation which precedes these descriptive initial letters.

MY DOCTOR.

WHEN Influenza pangs attack
My tortured head and limbs and back,
You soothe me, stretched upon the rack,
My Doctor.

When, convalescent, I'm too weak To stand, or sit, or see, or speak, Your tonics make me tough as teak, My Doctor.

No symptoms seem to cause surprise; Though I turn green or blue, your eyes Are still impenetrably wise, My Doctor.

If grave or slight the case, you still Awe folks with look of learned skill; You cure them, whether well or ill, My Doctor.

One needs trepanning of the head, Another just one pill—of bread, And neither, thanks to you, is dead, My Doctor.

Long may you live to see the tongue, To listen to the wheezy lung, To feel the pulse of old and young, My Doctor!

A BOTTON-HOLE FOR MR. CHAMBERLAIN.

—At the sale of the Quorn House Orchids,
Mr. G. HARDY purchased a Cattleya Mendelli for 220 guas. Perhaps Mr. CHAMBERLAIN wouldn't bid, having mistaken "Mendelli" for "Mundella." But to have entered the house in a careless fashion, with a "glass (with care)" in his eye, and a two-hundred-and-twenty-guinea Orchid in his button-hole, would have been a great sight for "Joey B"-IRMINGHAM.

EARLY AND LATE.—A telegram in the Times, Wednesday 12, was headed—"Japan: Yokohama, March 30 (vid Victoria, B.C., April 11)." This met the eye of our old friend, Mrs. E., who forthwith exclaimed, ""April 11, B.C.!" and only arrived here now—April 12, A.D.!!"

CHANGE OF NAME.—All congratulations to the Duke and Duchess of Fife. Great alterations and improvements are, it is said, being made at Mar Lodge. The name also is to be altered, and henceforth it is to be known as "Mar and Pa' Lodge."

THE MOAN OF THE TWO (EXCHEQUER) MISERS.

(After Quintin Matsys.)

First Exchaquer Miser. Oh dear me! I desired to shaps a Democratic Budget!

But I fear 'twill be a fizzle, howsoe'er I

But I fear 'twill be a fizzle, howeve'r I fake and fudge it!
Second E. M. Don't talk like that. my H-nc-r, for such cynic slang is shocking!
But—the Revenue Returns, no doubt,
our dearest hopes are mocking.
First E. M. Oh, I know you spe the casuist, and love the pleonastic,
But how tackle our taxation in a manner really drastic

Second E. M. Yet we've been economical; it is the very breath of us.

With a Revenue declining! From the task my courage blenches,
But—what will be the consequence on those clamorous Rad Benches?
They want Free Breakfast Tables, and are hot on Members' Payment.
And if they cannot get 'em, will they ourse and rend our raiment?
The Death Duties, too! The failure to touch them might be the death of us!

Second E. M. Yet we've been economical; it is the very breath of us.

First E. M. Humph! Howaboutyour Home-Rule Bill's Finance Proposals—drat'em!

Which c'en the Irish threaten to tear up—when they get at 'em!

Second E. M. The Rads, of course, will want to eat their cake and have it, also.

No, a Democratic Budget,—at least one the Rads would call so.—

I fear's not on the cards, H., but—humph! listen! (Whispers in Ais ear.)

For the rest of it!

I'll trust your ingenuity, and—we must make the best of it! [Left seorking it out.]

"A PRIVATE VIEW."

Pat. "What d'ye think of the Home-Rule Bill, Murphy?"

Murphy (puzzled). "Begorra, if it means staying at Home with the Ould Woman every blessed day, Home Rule won't do for Me at all, at all!"

"PER DAMNA, PER CÆDES," PERAMBULATOR.

[See Mr. Asquirm's Speech on the "Temperance demonstration.]

WHEN Trafalgar Square is with human geese full,
And fiercely fights the daft declamator,
Undisturbed the nursemaid can push the peaceful Perambulator.

The wild teetotaller hurts not her, Nor does the publican's justificator. Unharmed she can push the peaceful Per-

The Working Man, whether true or sham, Whether honest worker, or rough spectator, Leaves her to push the peaceful Peram-bulator. Though in hostile faces and chests he ram beau— Tiful bright banners, the demonstrator Still lets her push the peaceful Perambu-lator.

Thus always, whoever may block the way,
Though bones be broken and skulls be sore
May she push the peaceful Perambula ter.

"STILL A NON EST MAN!"-J-B-E SP-NC-R

To Mr. John Davitt.

(On his Maidon Speech in the House.) " O si sic omnes!"

SURELY sincerer speaker never talked!
Surely a purer patriot never walked!
Surely a fairer fighter never took field!
The man who heard your speech on Ireland's [applause, 081180 Without warm sympathy, a Must be a—BROOKFIELD!

CHEAP AT ANY PRICE.

Mrs. Britannia (effusively). And now, my dear children, do you know the meaning of Imperial Federation?

Australia (promptly). Yes, dear Mamma. We are all to live as a happy family.

Mrs. Brit. (fondly). Quite right, aweetest. And can you tell me how this is to be managed?

Canada (with decision). By mutual defence, dear Mamma.

dear Mamma.

Mrs. Brit. (smilingly). My love, your answer is quite correct. And how shall we manage this mutual defence?

Cape Colony (in a business-like manner). By providing all sorts of things, dear Mamma.

Mrs. Brit. (proudly). Very good, little Hors; you are always ready with an answer. And now, can any of you tell me what those things will be?

India (without hesitation). Money, and coal and gunpowder, dear Mamma.

Mrs. Brit. (affectionately). Certainly, darling; you have given exactly the proper reply. And now, will not all this cost a large sum of money?

Tamonia (with much decision). A very large sum of money, dear Mamma—an immense sum, dear Mamma.

Mrs. Brit. (kindly). Yes, my child, you are perfectly right. And now, my cherished daughters, one more question. Who will have to pay for all this expense? (A pauss.) Why, surely you know? (Continued silence.) Who will have to find the money to secure this Imperial Federation?

All Britannia's Daughters (together). Why you, dear Mamma!

you, dear Mamma! Mrs. Brit. (fondling them). Darlings!

[Scene closes in upon a picture very dear to Tax-payers.

The Heathen Chines in the House. (New Nursery Rhyme for Unionists.)

[Mr. LABOUCHERS recently presented a petition in the Chinese characters.]

Lab-Bi, the cynic and cold, Was blackest sheep in the Liberal fold. He mocked the Old Man's eloquent tags, And let the cate out of all his bags; And when the cate ran loose, said he "I wonder how that suits dear G.!"

ELEVATING THE MASSES.

A Purely Imaginary Sketch.)

ARGUMENT—Mrs. FLITTERMOURE, having got up a party to assist her in giving an Entertainment at the East End, has called a meeting for the purpose of settling the items in the programme.

Schne-Mrs. Flittermouse's Drawing-room in Park Lane. Every-body discovered drinking tea, and chatting on matters totally unconnected with Philanthropy.

unconnected with Philanthropy.

Mrs. Flittermouse (imploringly). Now, please, everybody, do attend!
It's quite impossible to settle anything while you're all talking about something else. (Apologies, protests, constrained silence.)
Selina, dear, what do you think it would be best to begin with?

The Dowager Lady Dampier. My dear FRITILLA, I have no suggestion to offer. You know my opinion about the whole thing. The people don't want to be elevated, and—if they did—entertaining them is not the proper means to set about it.
But I don't wish to discourage

Mrs. Flitt. Oh, but I think we could do so ssuch to give them a taste for more rational and refined amusements, poor things, to wean them from the coarse pleasures which are all they have at present. Only we must really decide what each of us is going to do.

Mrs. Perss- Weaver. A violin solo is always 'popular. A my daughter CECILIA will my daughter Uzcilia delighted to play for you. She has been taught by the best— has been taught by the Jouldn't, Cecilia. Oh, Mother, I couldn't, really! I've rever played in public. I know I should break down!

Lady Damp. In that case, my dear, it would be certainly unwise on your part to attempt

Mrs. P.- W. Nonsense, CE-CILIA, nonsense. You soon't break down, and it wouldn't matter in the least if you did. They wouldn't notice anything. And it will be such excellent practice for you to get accus-tomed to a platform, too. Of course she will play for you, course she will play for you, dear Mrs. Fittlemouse!

Mrs. Fitt. It will be se good of you, Miss WEAVER. And it won't be like playing to a real know — Boof won't be like playing to a real audience, you know — poor people are so easily pleased, poor dears. Then I will put that down to begin with. (She makes a note.) Now we must have something quite different for the next — a reading or comething.

something.

Lady Honor Hyndleggs. A—nothin' Aumorous, I hope. I do think we ought to avoid anythin' like descendin' to their level, don't you know of Dickens.

Mr. Lovegroore. Might try something out of Pickwick. "Bob swyer's Party," you know. Can't go far wrong with anything out of DICKENS.

Miss Diocs Rose. Can't endure him myself. All his characters are so fearfully common; still—(tolerantly) I daressy it might amuse—a—that class of persons.

Mrs. Flitt. I must say I agree with Lady Honor. We should try and aim as high as possible—and well, I think not DICKENS, dear Mr. LOVEGROOVE. TENSYRON might do perhaps; he's written some charmin', pieces.

hr. Loveshoovs. The root might to pethop, charmin' pieces.

Mr. Lovegr. Well, fact is, I don't go in for poetry much myself.

But I'll read snythin' of his you think I'm equal to.

Mrs. Flitt. Why—a—really, it's so long since I—and I'm afraid I haven't one of his poems in the house. I suppose they are down at Barn-end. But I could send to CUTT AND HAWTHORN'S. I daresay they would have a copy somewhere.

Miss Sibson-Gabler. Surely TENNYSON is rather—a—retrograde? Why not read them something to set them thinking? It would be an interesting experiment to try the effect of that marvellous Last Scene in the Doll's House. I'd love to read it. It would be like a breath of fresh air to them!

Mrs. P.-W. Oh! I've seen that at the Langham Hall. You resemble: Creatly may taking you there? And County Grant County Grant County Grant County Grant County Grant County Grant County County

Mrs. P.-W. Oh! I've seen that at the Langham Hall. You remember. Cecilia, my taking you there? And Corner Grain played Noah. To be sure—we were quite amused by it all.

Miss S.-G. (coldly). This is not amusing—it's a play of IBSEN'S.

Mrs. Faitt. Is that the man who wrote the piece at the Criterion—what is it. The Toy Shop? WYNDHAM acted in it.

Lady Damp. No, no; IBSEN is the person there's been all this fuss about in the papers—he goes in for unconventionality and all that. I may be wrong, but I think it is such a mistake to have anything unconventional in an Entertainment for the People.

Mrs. Fiitt. But if he's being talked about, dear Lady DAMPIKE, people might like to know something about him. But perhaps we'd better leave IBSEN open, then. Now, what shall we have next?

next?

Miss Skipworth. I tell you what would fetch them—a skirt-dance. I'll dance for you— like a shot. It would be no end of fun doin' it on a regular plat-form, and I've been studyin' FLOSSIE FRILLINGTON, at the Inanity, till I've caught her style exactly.

Mr. Kempton. Oh, I say, you can give her a stone and a beatin' any day, give you myord you can. She doesn't put anythin' like the go into it you do.

[Miss S. accepts this tribute with complacency.

with comptacency.

Mrs. Fitt. A skirt-dance will be the very thing. It's sure to please the people we shall bring over for it—and of course they'll be in the front rows. Yes, I must put that down. We ought to have a song next. Mrs. Tuberoer, you promised to come and sing for ne.—you will. won't you?

was—you will, won't you?

Mrs. Tuberose. Delighted! I rather thought of doing a dear little song STEPHAN OTIS has just brought out. It's called "Forbidden Fruit," and he wrote it expressly for me. It goes like this,

[She sits down at the piano, and sings, with infinite ex-pression and tenderness.

"Only the moon espies our bliss,

Through the conscious clusters of clematis,
Shedding star-sweet showers.
To-morrow the world will have

Now we are face by face, love, I thrill to your kiss—

That To-night is ours!

Yes, this passionate, perilens

Several Voices. Charmin'... Orrs puts so much real feeling into all his songs... quite a little gem! &c., &c.

Lady Damp. I should have thought myself that it was rather advanced—for an East-End audience—

Mrs. Tuberose (nettled). Really, dear Lady DAMPIES. if people see nothing to object in it here, I don't see why they should be more particular at the East-End!

Mrs. Fistt. Oh no,—and as if it matters what the words are in a song. I dareasy if one heard their songs — Now we want another song—something as different as possible.

Mr. Gardinier. Heard a capital song at the "Pav." the other night—something about a Cock-eyed Kipper. Just suit my voice. I could easily get the words and music, and do that for you—if you like.

Several Voices. A Cock-eyed Kipper! It sounds too killing! Oh, we must have that!

" To-night is ours!"

finish up with Mrs. Jarley's Waxworks, you know. Some of you can be the figures, and I'll come on in a bonnet and shawl as Mrs. Jarley, and wind you up and describe you. I've done it at lots of places in the country; brought in personal allusions and all that sort of thing, and made everybody roar.

d 2

everybody roar.

Lady Damp. But will
the East-Enders understand your personal aliu-

Mr. Bag. Well, you see, the people in the front rows will, which is all I

Lady Honor (sus-piciously). Isn't Mrs. Jarley out of Pickwick, though? That's DICKENS surely?

Mr. Bag. (reassuringly). Nothing but the name, Lady Nothing but the name, Lady Howon. I make up all the patter myself, so that 'll be all right—just good-na-tured chaff, you know; if anybody's offended—as I've known them to be—it's no fault of mine.

Mrs. Flitt. Oh! I'm sure you will make it funny, —and about getting some-one to preside—I suppose we ought to ask the Vicar of the nearest church?

Lady Honor, Wouldn't it be better to get somebody—a—more in Society, don't you know?

Bornowed Plume-AGE.

SIR, — My congregation is a rustic one. I have tried them with my own sermons, but my pew-rents suffered so severely in consequence, that I have been obliged to give them up. Last Sunday (following the advice of a lay friend of mine in Town, in whom I have much considence) I preached one of Prebendary Sheepshanks' "Crampton Lectures" to them, and the farmers and labourers seemed much impressed. There was, in fact, hardly an open eye in Church during the hour and a half that the delivery lasted. The Charity-School children, too, who sat through the whole of it, only had to be physically admonished by their teacher about once in overy half-mixute. When an old village dame of termade assured me that in every half-minute. When an old village dame afterwards assured me that "she didn't know I was that larned," I felt-momentarily-rather like a wolf in Sheepshanks' through the course.
Yours, &c.,
Pastor Ignorus.

A GENTLE MAY Filt. Yes; and he might offer to pay for hiring the Hall, and the other expenses. I never thought of that. I'll see whom I can get. Really I think it "Yessie. What'll you 'ave, Sir!" "One—awrithine—I ook' care. One on Sterk—whatever you Like." "You must excuse me, Sir; but I don't feel called upon to decide!"

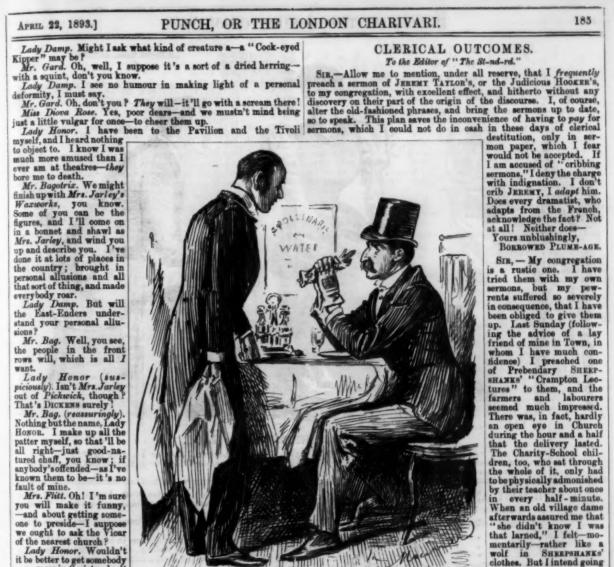

A Tip to Tectotallers.

A Tip to Tectotallers.

Temperance is good—but not alone in Drink! Good causes are not won, whate'er you think, By bullying indulgence in bad manners. A total abstinence from aught unfair Will serve you best. Tour Standard raise in air, But Banners of Intemperance should not tear Passions to rags—nor Banners!

The Times of April 12 says:—"The Kachin (or Katchin) riaing is stated to be serious, and likely to spread." Not to be wondered at as it's "Katchin."

A Tresear from Fez ought to be considered as coming from the box and send us your dector's bill, for purposes of comparison. Wino's Wino's Parsian accent about some of his neighs, there is a distinctly British look about his nose. He is a trife cobby, no doubt, the is a capital feeder, and should go well in a double harness, with side of the parsians accent about some of his neighs, there is a distinctly British look about his nose. He is a trife cobby, no doubt, the is a capital feeder, and should go well in a double harness, with side companion. (2) Peat Moss Litter appearance you refer to is probably subinosis brandiginated. It is due to the absorption of liquor per haustum. The snakes you sent us are indigenous to the hill-country of Del Trementi.

HOW RAPID CONVERSIONS ARE MADE.

Lady Circs. "What, you don't appreciate Wagner, Mr. Jones? You must let me Play you a little of Parsipal."

[Dues so, and Jones, who has no ear for Music whatever, becomes an anient and aggressive Wagnerite on the spot, and remains so for the rest of his bife !

UNCLE TOBY AND WIDOW WADMAN.

(MODERN ULSTER VERSION.)

A Fragment after the Fashion of Sterne.

Uncle Toby . . . Widow Wadman . . Mr. J-HN B-LL. . . Mrs. Ulsr-n.

"I am half distracted, Captain' SMANDY," said Mrs. Wadmay, holding up her cambric handkerchief to her left eye, as the approached the door of my Uncle Tony's Sentry-Box—"a mote, or sand, or small fly, or something. I know not what, has got into this eye of mine. The Gardener declares it is one of those Green Flies which are the pest of this Distressful Country. I refuse to believe that. There never was, never will, never can, never shall be any Green in my eye. But whatever it is, mote or beam, it is awfully irritating. Do look into it; it is not in the white, or perhaps I should say—for I am a brunette of olive complexion, you know—in the Yellow—"

a hectoring fiery thresonic Hibernian Mars-himself, without being able to tell whether it was a black or a blue one, or even a Green or a Yellow.

The difficulty was to get my Uncle Toby to look into things at all.

'Tis surmounted. And —

I see him yonder, with his pipe pendulous in his hand, and the ashes falling out of it, looking, and looking, then rubbing his eyes and looking again, with twice the good-nature that ever Gallie looked for a spot in the sun.

In vain.' For by all the powers which animate the organ, Widow Wadman's left eye shines this moment as lucid as her right. 'Tis true the unfortunate, and something irate lady—and what lady would not be irate at the charge of having aught of Green in her eye?—hath with her cambric handkerohier rubbed the sinister orbinto a state of roceate irritation—xternally—but there is neither which are the pest of this Distressful Country. I refuse to believe which are the pest of this Distressful Country. I refuse to believe that. There never was, never will, never can, never shall be any Green in my eye. But whatever it is, mote or beam, it is awfully irritating. Do look into it; it is not in the white, or perhaps I should say—for I am a brunette of olive complexion, you know—in the Yellow——"

In asying which, Mrs. Wadman edged herself close in beside my Uncle Toby, and squeezing herself down upon the corner of his bench, she gave him an opportunity of doing it without rising up "Do look into it!" said she.

Homest soul! Thou wast ever being adjured to "look into" things, all sorts of things, from Widow's eyes to matters of far wider scope, and infinitely less simplicity and clarity. And thou didst look into it with as much innocency and simple good-will as ever child looked into a rarse show-box.

If a man will be prying, of his own accord, into things of such it will not be a rever did, being naturally of an unobservant and to say to it.

My Uncle Toby never did, being naturally of an unobservant and takink and troubleome, not to say perilous nature—I've nothings to say to it.

My Uncle Toby never did, being naturally of an unobservant and takink and troubleome, not to say perilous nature—I've nothings of some carriage thereof, looked as formidable as a whole park of the say of the carriage of the carriage of the carnon, in themselves, as it is the carriage of the carnon, in themselves, as it is not so much the eye or the cannon, in themselves, as it is not so much the eye or the cannon, in themselves, as it is not so much the eye or the carnon in this respect; that it is not so much the eye or the carnon in this respect; that it is not so much the eye or the carnon in this respect; that it is not so much the eye or the carnon in this respect; that it is not so much the eye or the carnon in this respect; that it is not so much the eye or the carnon in this respect; that it is not so much the eye

UNCLE TOBY AND WIDOW WADMAN.

(Modern Ulster Version. After C. R. Leslie, R.A.'s celebrated picture.)

MRS. ULSTER. "NOW, MR. BULL, DO YOU SEE ANY 'GREEN' IN MY EYE ?"

But this was not what the Widow wanted.

"It is not in the white, or yellow," said Mrs. Wadnay. My Uncle Toby looked with might and main into the pupil.

Now there never, surely, was an eye so fitted to rob my Uncle Toby of his repose as the very eye at which he was looking. It was not, Madam, a rolling eye, a dissatisfied or a revolutionary one—nor was it an eye wieked, wanton, or wandering—but it was not eye sparkling, petulant, and imperious, of high claims, and large exactions—an eye full of briak challenges and sharp responses, an eye of satisfied strength and confident ascendancy—speaking, not like the dulect appeal of a mellow flate, but like the trumpet stop of some powerful party organ. The cornea was perhaps a shade sallow or so, even verging on the Widow's favourite Yellow—(for the Widow, like some modern decorative artists, was sweet upon all tawny tints, from the most delicate buff to the most flamboyans Orange)—but as to any touch, tint, or tone of her chromatic antipathy, Green—!!!

"Now, dear Mr. Shandy," cried the Widow, edging nearer, and opening the optic to its widest, "tell me—tell me truly, do you, can you detect the alightest suspicion of Green in my eye—?"

"I protest, Madam," said my Uncle Tobx, "I can see nothing whatever of the sort!"

THE B. AND S. DRAMA AT THE ADELPHI.

"Some one has blundered!" Who? The Mesers. Gatti, in sending to Mesers. Bucharar and Sims ("B. & S.") for an Adelphi melodrama? Surely not! These two might have been trusted to turn out the right article. So the Gattis leave the Court without a e Court without a stain on their managerial character. Therefore, 'tis the brother-authors,' 'hoi Adelphot,' who have blundered. Undoubtedly. An Adelphiaudienee is not to be satisfied with a one. fied with a onescene piece, when that scene is without any incident in it worth a melodramatic father's cuss. A a meiogramatic father's cuss. A fancy-dress ball atCovent Garden, however well put on the stage,—and, after all, it has not beaten the record of the Masked Ball at the Opera House. ATRICAL ENTIONALITI the Opera House in Paris, as given in Mr. Invine's revival of The Corsican Brothers,—will not

B-ch-n-n. "The prize from the lucky-bag"—fary piece of far stronger oalibre than The Black Domino, and it won't carry this. Neither will as charming "set," representing the terrace of the "Star and Garter," at Richmond, carry a piece to a successful finale, if the audience has lost all interest in the characters, and does not very much care what becomes of any one of them, male or female. To the playgoer it is not attractive; he has seen it all before. "He knows that man and that woman,—they come from Sheffield;" i.e., the persons and the incidents are taken out of a lot of dramas which dwell in his memory, from Boucicaulty's Formosa at Drury Lane, up to Oscan's Lady Windermere's Fan at the St. James's. Of course, my imaginary play-goer is the Bill of the play, who has "matured," and is not a junior member of the Play-goer's Club. Then, in the old lind German, there is a touch of Tom Taxion's Helping Hands, and, as for all the rest of the characters, which may be a shell-fish view, but at all events, if (like the jest) it be "a poor thing," yet'tis mine own (for the time being), and thereto I sign my hand, half-century, for, like Shaksprare himself, these wiled lawyers and gamblers—the aiders and a-betters—are "not for an age" (would they were, and that age passed!) "but for all time!"

Nothing saves the piece from being absolutely dull, except the admirable acting, and, I may add, the scenery. It is impossible to am proper is a piece fount upon renewing such effects as those in Formosa, The Flying!

earry a piece of Scud, and in the Prodigal Daughter at Drury Lane, wherein the wrong horse was poisoned (in a really dramatic scene), and LEGNARD BOYNE, riding the winner, cleared the brook, thus causing part-author DRURIOLANUS to clear—any amount of money. There are no two exciting scenes like these in this Adelphi drama. Its comic relief is "poor relief," and would go for nothing at all, were it not in the hands of Mr. Dale, who played and sang so well in Miss Decima at the Criterion, and of the vivacious Miss Clara Jecks.

Mr. W. Demnis, as the Earl of Arlington, is own brother to the old Peer in The Raphle is own brother to the old Peer in The Bauble Shop. Perhaps this is a tribute to the representative of the aristocracy at the Criterion, or it indicates with great subtlety that, like Members of Parliament. "Peers are, after all, human-very hument. Peers are, after all, human—very hu-man," and that one old Peer is uncommonly like another old Peer. Miss EVELYN MILLARD, Miss EVELTE MILLARD, as the soprano heroine, and Mrs. Patrick Campbell as the base heroine, look handsome, and act excellently. They take the audience with them as far as the rediscrete and the second seco audience will go. As good as they possibly can be in such convencan be in such conventional pupper-parts are Mesers. GLENNY and ABINGDON, the first as the well-intentioned but weak-willed Lord Dash-ASINODON, the first as the well-intentioned but weak-willed Lord Dashwood, and the second as that old-fashioned secondrel. Captain Greville. Mr. ARTHUR WILLIAMS rather suggests Mr. BLAKKLEY as Greville). "Liar and slave!" [Strikes him. They fight with first him special line) in the entirely new and original character part of an Iriah Major, with nothing particularly humorous to say, and nothing at all, humorous, or otherwise, to do.

Something new in Melodrama is wanted, and Melodrama "all of the modern time" is played out, unless a genius can hit on a new sensation. The Adelphi piece, however, has its advantages, and among these its chiefest is, that it necessitates the taking of light refreshment immediately afterwards. Fortunately, the Adelphi is close to our old friend RULE's in Maiden Lane, and for this hospitable shelter our party made in haste; and, before the arrival of the crowd of supper-numeraries, gained a table, on which were soon placed appetising and drinkatising oysters, followed by the grateful stout. "Pretty to see," as Papys hath it, at the very next table to us, the good here of the drama welcoming the double-dyed villain, chiding him for being a few minutes late, and then drowning all past dramatic animosities in the flowing bowl. "See how these players love one another!" So have I seen politicians, mortal enemies in the House, hob-nobbing together at the dinner-table of some hospitable Impartial. "And thus it is," said I to myself, said I, "that 'all the world's a stage, and men and women' like to have supper after the play and enjoy themselves generally." So philosophising, we, my companion and I, lighted the pipe of peace—I should say a cigar a-piece—and returned home satisfied with our excellent supper. Vice Baxxiss! Barxaxxis rules the waves, and this is the last month for oysters till the arrival of another month with an "r" in it; but, en attendant, there will appear some very small, very sweet, and very digestible lobsters! "Le jeu ne vaut pas la chandelle t" But an indifferent play

"ULSTERIA"-THE PREVAILING EPIDEMIC.

Chorus of the Colonel's Daughters (Irish) to English Visitor. "On yes, we're going to have Terrible Times! And it is such Fun, you know—we 're all learning Shooting!"

ESSENCE OF PARLIAMENT.

EXTRACTED FROM THE DIARY OF TOBY, M.P.

House of Commons, Monday, April 10.—"Quite refreshing," murmured Grandolff, looking round at the Party, to which, as he said at Liverpool the other day, he is thoroughly attached, "to see how good Conservatives enjoy CWAMBERLAIN'S Speech. They are as inhibitant name as the research. now good Conservatives enjoy CHAMBERLAIN'S Speech. They are as jubilant now as they were a few years ago, when I attacked Joseph in connection with Aston-Park Riots. A topsy-turry world; most of us where we never thought to find ourselves, or be found; oddest of all, surely, is to hear CHAMBERLAIN of Birmingham enthusiastically cheered in House of Commons by great Conservative Party. They mean it, too," Grandolph added, still scanning the beaming faces on the Benches behind. "It is almost an intellectual delight to them."

"Yes," said Plunker, "they are acutely pleased to hear so amartly said what they think they thought."

intellectual delight to them."

'Yes," said PLUNKET, "they are acutely pleased to hear so smartly said what they think they thought."

Truly a stirring of the aluggish pool during hour and half that CHAMBERLAIM stepped in. Speech full of bitterness; effect immeasurably increased by perfect equability of manner, and the utterance of a voice ever soft and low—a beantiful thing in a man who says nasty things of parted friends. If one atone deaf had sat in Gallery and watched JOSEPH, as he gracefully bent over towards Treasury Bench, whereon sat his one-time revered Leader and the still faithful band of followers, he would naturally have imagined JOSEPH was complimenting him and them upon the perfectness of their measure, and the prospect of the Irish wilderness, under its beneficent influence, blossoming like the rose. Deaf man would have been mistaken; JOSEPH saying nothing of the kind; indeed, quite the reverse, as deaf man, turning his eyes on Mr. G., would begin to suspect.

every now and then springing up with hot correction. Which was just what Joseph wanted to achieve.

Business done.—Third Day Debate on Second Reading Home-Rule Bill.

Bill.

Tuesday. — Ellis Ashmead - Bartlett (Knight) back again.

"He's Knight and Morning," said leal Tom Sutherland, of the P. & O., looking on admiringly from the starboard poop. In a sense this is true, for Ashmead gave us a full hour's discourse last night, and here in broad day, on threshold of another sitting, proposts to add another forty minutes. Paince Arthur had quite a time with him last night. He was, so to speak, the Boy left on the Burning Deck whence all but he Had Fled. Right Hon. Gentlemen on Front Opposition Bench, following example set in other parts of House, eleared out when Ashmead appeared at table with prodigious roll of manuscript in red right hand. Prince Arthur looked wistfully towards door, but, remembering leading precept of Old Morality, determined to stay, and do duty to Queen and Country. So sat it out till midnight struck; Debate automatically closed, and Speaker called on next Order of the Day.

Ashmead, pleased with his success, and pondering on fresh delights in store for House when it met again, remained standing at table, reflectively arranging his papers. Horrible thought suddenly struck him; frozo his veins, and paled his brow. With generous desire that country should fully share advantages of House, he had his speech printed in advance. Copies sent to newspapers. Suppose they printed it all, whereas he had not found opportunity to deliver more than half of it! Awakened from reverie by violent tugging at coat-tails. This was Frince Arthur, signalling him to sit down, with perhaps unnecessary vigour. But Paince Arthur had along score fully an hour long! to pay off.

under its beneficent influence, blossoming like the rose. Deaf man would have been mistaken; Joseph saying nothing of the kind; indeed, quite the reverse, as deaf man, turning his eyes on Mr. G. would begin to suspect.

Wide differences between Mr. G. and J. C.; none so marked as their demeanour throughout debate. The wilder the storm of interruption rages round Joseph, the more urbane he becomes, and the more dangerous. Mr. G., standing on the commanding eminence he has built for himself in the House of Commons, is the sport of most inconsiderable Member. Anyone, with whatever bungling hand, can "'draw" him. To-night, whilst Joseph smiled his way through all the spiteful things he had stored up for gratification of old friends, Mr. G. sat restless, with clouded brow, face pale with anger, POLITICAL ECONOMY-AND THE REFORMERS' IDEA OF HOW THE OFFICIALS SHOULD BE TREATED.

ago Davitt was working out the Irish Question with a rope over his shoulder, dragging a cart of stones through the court-yard of one of Her Majesty's prisons. No one, easually coming across him at Portland, would have ventured to forecast the hour when, standing up, the centre of interest in an applauding House of Commons, he should have had an opportunity of reasoning with the only occasionally Dun Barton, warning him against the practice of treason-felony, and remainding him that the pathway to the Bench does not lie by way of the dock. No parallel in politics to the Irish Question. Some of us have our earlier studies interrupted by a sentence of imprisonment; others, I daressy, will, later on, find in similar chaste repose opportunity of reviewing our connection with it."

Involun'arily the eye of the Great Philosopher rested on the

Mr. D-v-tt says no British Bill can pass while the Irish Bill blocks the way. graceful figure of PRINCE ARTHUR, whose speech at Belfast, on the Philosophy of Rebellion, DAVITY just now cited in justification of the overt acts that led him to Portland.

Business done.—Fourth Night Home-Rule Debate.

Thursday.—"In spite of all temptation, I have hitherto remained a Member of House of Commons," Chaplin said to me just now. "I might by this time, had I pleased, been a Duke, and my most unscrupulous detractor will not deny that is a position I could fill with pictorial effect; but I've stuck to the Commons, and this is

H. L-b-oh-re (thinking of Welsh Disestablishment, aske Mr. Ch-pl-n).
"Did you say 'Mr. Ap Ollinaris?"

CHAPLIS stared haughtily over Saon's head, and went on. So did fragments of audience, the latter towards the door, till, almost in solitude, there rolled forth the treasured peroration. This bad, but worse followed, when immediately succeeded an obscure Irishman, worse followed, when immediately succeeded an obscure Irlanman, whom Chaplin vaguely remembers a few years back as a Committee Clerk, or something of that kind. Benches swiftly filled up, and an assembly that vaunts itself most critical audience in the world followed, with rapt attention, the simple sentences of obscure John Redmond, Ex-Committee Clerk—this same audience that had scornfully treated the portentous periods of the Right Hon. Hener Chaplin, sometime Cabinet Minister.

Business done.—Fifth Night's Debate.

Friday.—Prince ARTHUR, enumerating Statesmen anxious to speak in Debate, doling them out at the rate of one a day, omitted Cousin Crandoune. Doubtless accidental; Noble Lord has his revenge; worked off his speech to-night whilst Asquire addressing House. Consisted of only single word; effect instantaneous, startling. Into Asquire's fervent eulogium on Davity, Crandoune dropped the additional description, "Murderer." Was only thinking aloud as he explained to House; just talking genially to himself; regretted he was overheard, and begged to apologise.

"It's the principle of heredity," said Tim Healy; "the father calls us all Hottentots; the son accuses one of us of murder."

Business done.—Sixth Night's Debate on Home-Rule Bill.

THE DRINK QUESTION SOLVED.

MERSANO

on Agenta-S. Hanson, Son, & 2 aven, 47, Botolph Lane, E.C.

OLD IRISH

I for itself a many cryditable name, as of the ments of whisky. A nellow as the Ovoca can be taken by as a dispetive aid, for example, rater, a form in which I know pile perfer to drink it, in appell to of course."—Vanity Fair.

A. Cannon, M.D., R. Ch., reports—hisky is free from fuell us, of good coellest dayour."

PACKHAM'S

DISTILLED WATER.

Me. the Gall.,

March, 5/6. Every, 7/6, of all Dealers.

GOLDEN HAIR ROBARE'S AUREDLINE

"EXCELLENT-of Great Value."-Lancet, June 15, 1889.

(PATENT)

Most Delicious, Nutritious, and requiring no digestive effort. In tins, 2s. 6d. In half tins (samples).

SAVORY & MOORE, LONDON.

GOLD PENS
GOLD PENS
GOLD PENS
GOLD PENS
GOLD PENS
GOLD AND IRIDIUM POINTER GOLD PENS GOLD PENS GOLD PENS

GOLD PENS GOLD PENS

GOLD PENS
MADE TO SUIT EVERY HAND AND STYLE,
CATALOGUE AND PRICE LIST ON APPLICATION. MARIE, TODD, & BARD, Manufacturers of Gold Pens and "Swan" Fountain Pens, 53, CHAPSIDE, Longer, E.C. (Established 1865.)

BENZINE COLLAS.—Ask for "Collas."

CLEANS GLOVES.—CLEANS DRESSES.
CLEANS GLOVES.—CLEANS DRESSES.
CLEANS GLOVES.—CLEANS DRESSES.
BENZINE COLLAS.—Buy "Collas."
REMOVES TAN. GIL.—PAINT, GREASE.
REMOVES TAN. GIL.—PAINT, GREASE.
FROM FURNITURES.—CLOTH, &C.

BENZINE COL! AS.—Try "Collas."

See the word COLIAS on the Label and Cap.

Extra refined, nearly odourless.
On using, becoming autic advantage.

On using, becoming quite odourtees.

BENZINE GOLLAS, —Ask for "Collas"
Preparation, and take no other,
fold everywhere, 6d, i.e., and is, 6d, per bottle.
Agents: J. Sanoza & Sons, 460, Oxford Street, W.

TO SMOKERS. FLOR DE DINDIGUL, in modfum mile and all other the cal. Pistol Cartridges.

COLTS LICHTNING MACAZIME RIFLES. or Large said Meal Same. Meals elementing and successful for mysidity of fire.
COLT'S REVOLVERS
are used all over the World. Price List free.
COLT'S TREADES CO.
B. Glasphene St. Florestilly Circus. London, W.

Schweppe's Table Waters

Continue to be supplied to Her Majesty the Queen.

BEWARS OF IMITATIONS OF BOTH RED AND BROWN LAREIS.

BREAKFAST OR SUPPER.

GRATEFUL-COMFORTING.

DOILING WATER OR MILK.

MEW PATENT BROUGHAM - HANSOM.

ADAMS'S FURNITURE THE OLDEST AND BEST.

Benedictine Liqueur.

SOLD BY ALL WINE MERCHANTS, HOTELS, RESTAURANTS, &c

Benedictine.

FOR ASTHMA &C DATURA TATULA

WILLS'S" NAVY CUT

"CAPSTAN" Brand.

Sold in Three Grades of SAVORY & MOORE, London. Strength, viz.:-

"MILD," Yellow label.

"MEDIUM," Blue label.

"FULL," Chocolate label.

In One Ounce Packets, and -lb. Patent Air-tight Tins, by all Dealers in Tobacco.

ROYAL TABLE MARMALADE

A DELICIOUS PRESERVE OF ORANGES AND LEMONS.

In 1-lb. and 2-lb. Glass Jars.

SOLD BY GROCERS THROUGHOUT THE UNITED KINGDOM.

CROSSE & BLACKWELL, LIMITED, SOHO SQUARE, LONDON.

LIEBIG "COMPANY'S" EXTRACT OF BEEF.

PERFECT PURITY ABSOLUTELY GUARANTEED.

Keeps for any length of time in any climate.

MAKES THE PUREST, CHEAPEST, AND BEST BEEF TEA.

Highest Awards at all the principal Exhibitions since 1837, and declared

ABOVE COMPETITION SINCE 1885.

See Signature (as annexed) in Blue Ink across the Label on each Jar of the Genuiue Extract.

of Liebiz

Finest Meat-Flavouring Stock for Soups, Sauces, Made Dishes, &c.

COOKERY BOOKS (Indispensable for Ladies) SENT PREE on application to LIEBIC'S EXTRACT OF MEAT COMPANY, LIMITED, 9. FENCHURCH AVENUE. E.C. BEST Established and 1825.

CHEAPEST.

FOR INFANTS,
CHILDREN,
INVALIDS,
and THE AGED.
In Patent Air-Tight Time.

LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE

The ORIGINAL and Genuine

WORCESTERSHIRE SAUCE

bears the Signature, thus :-

Lea Servino

ASK FOR LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE.

Wholesale and for Export by the Proprietors, Worcester; Crosse & Blackwooll, London, &c., &c.; and by Grocers and Oilmen throughout the World.

RETAIL EVERYWHERE.